

Penney store manager. He did that and spent 45 years with that company. Today he is retired and living in Troutdale, OR, (near Portland). He's interested in getting more people from the classes of '51-'53 at alumni events, and can be reached at email: hbateman@aol.com

Esther Williams set Joan (Green) Bragdon, '51, on her course of life. Joan saw a Williams movie where she played a Wave, and decided to join up. At the Great Lakes Naval Station she met a man from Portland. Joan writes from her home in Rockland, ME, that she responded "... 'Portland, isn't that a coincidence, I am from Seattle'. Well, he gave me a dirty look and said, 'I mean Portland, Maine, NOT Portland, Oregon'." Some 45 years later they have two children and seven grandchildren. They have lived in Rockland for the all of those years. Joan worked as a pediatric nurse, retiring in 1992. We hope she makes it back to Seattle someday (the other Washington).

George J. Stamolis, '55, writes from Fresno, CA that he enjoyed the little vignette, "A Fond Memory of Henk", in the last Kuay. George remarks, "He took young teens with gangly uncoordinated bodies and in four years instilled a sense of respect for physical conditioning. He also instilled a 'can do' attitude which prepared young people to deal with the adversities of life. That is why we who had the 'Henkel Experience' reflect his memory with respect and admiration."

Whatever happened to Ed Ottum? This inquiry by Dolores (Vinikow) Schwartz, '55, came by email from her home in New York City. She went to the Manhattan School of Music on scholarship (French horn) and stayed there. Dolores wanted the Kuay to remind people that it was Ottum, Music Dept. Chair, who was the driver of the campaign to get the pipe organ into Queen Anne (see story in Sept. 1997 Kuay) and who played it for all of the assemblies. Dolores commented that, "... it was because of him that I went into the music profession. I would write to him often and always tell him how grateful I was for his encouragement and I know that made him proud." Alas, Mr. Ottum passed away Dec. 30, 1996. The organ is now installed at Franklin High School.

Moscow nights have called Ken Childs, '60, who is living in Moscow, Russia, with his wife, Barbara, and daughter, Isabella. He is President of Telebridge International, a logistics and telecommunication company.

1961 grad Dick Libby exhibited his salmon weathervane designs at the Best of the Northwest marketplace of fine crafts at the Seattle Center Exhibition Hall in November. Dick has returned to Seattle after studies in Europe. He makes various artworks from weathered metal, salvage wood and found objects.

William M. James, '65, has been elected Chair of the General Appraiser Board of the Appraisal Institute, in Chicago. James, who lives in Denver, is President of James Real Estate Services, a real estate appraisal and investment advisory firm. Bill James is also a member of the Colorado Board of Real Estate Appraisers, appointed by Governor Romer.

Sandy (Basham) Neal, '66 decided to use our editor's email address to let us know she is alive and well in Canton, OH. Sandy has a PhD in Industrial/Organizational Psychology and runs her own consulting firm, Synergistic Organizational Solutions. She somehow also squeezes in part-time teaching at three area colleges, University of Akron and two branches of Kent State University.

Charles Wheaton, '68, is currently the Superintendent of the Dayton School District, Dayton, WA. He recently received his PhD. from Gonzaga University in Spokane, in May 1999. Previously he was with the Othello School District.

Mariner fans have enjoyed the "hat game" and "hydroplane game" on the Safeco Field video screen. They can thank QA grad Greg Pecknold, '68, whose company, Flying Spot, developed those games. Greg is a partner in the Seattle film and video postproduction company, which has produced many other Mariner graphics for game broadcasts. Pecknold has received Emmy Award honors for his opening sequence graphics for the "World of National Geographic" and other International Monitor Awards for excellence in video editing and graphic design.

'70s and '80s

Air National Guard Staff Sergeant Gordon R. Wilson, '72, is now in Kuwait as a member of the 332nd Air Expeditionary Group in support of Operation Southern Watch. His unit assists in monitoring the no-fly and no-drive zones in Iraq.

Gene Helsel, '75, has been a pastor in Wenatchee since 1991. Gene was Men's Club President in his QA days. He graduated from Washington State University and worked in Quincy, WA as a crop fieldman for awhile. Gene, who can be reached at genehels@televar.com, also sends the following Class of '75 notes.

Craig McMullen, '75, graduated from Seattle Pacific University and earned a Masters of Divinity from Gordon Conwell Seminary in Boston, MA. Craig is a pastor in Boston and is a leader in the New England racial reconciliation movement.

Aviation called to Mark Barrett, '75, who is an Alaska Airlines pilot and lives in Monroe, WA. Mark was center on the Grizzly football team, served four years in the Air Force, graduated from Seattle Pacific University and then started his career in commercial aviation.

John Tiede, '75, now lives in Ne-husha, Israel. He was Men's Club Vice President at Queen Anne. John worked for the Seattle and King County Police departments before moving to Israel in 1991. He has formed a company that provides security for commercial businesses.

In a note your author misplaced for almost two years, Karen (King) Chasson, '80, writes that she and her family have moved from the Leavenworth/Wenatchee area and now live on a boat in the San Juans. She has kept up her art career and sells cards and

The Annual Banquet

Numerous raffle prizes went to different tables. There were dinners, baskets of goodies, a summer cruise on Puget Sound, among others. Winners were divided equally among the various decades of Queen Anne alums.

The new slate of board members was duly elected. (see column at right.)

Committee Chair, Kim Turner, '61, gave the invocation, later serenading the attendees with a rendition of "Anniversary Song" which probably made the great Al Jolson turn over in his grave.

Turner surprised the attendees by providing the dessert, a series of decadent little chocolates and fruit pastries. There were no complaints about that from the participants! Classes represented ranged from 1921 through 1981, however the decades of the 50s, 60s, and 70s were not well represented. We hope this can be improved in the year 2000.

The Board would like to hear if luncheons or dinners are preferred. Luncheon prices can be held significantly lower.

numerous dishes provided by alumni members. John Shanafelt's Texas style chili was delicious. He does justice to his chef's hat.

Co-chairs, Glo Holcomb and Bill Tobin, felt the 1999 picnic was a great success. They heard departing remarks of, "We'll be back next year."

In 2000, the picnic will be either August 13th or 20th. We cannot provide a firm date at this time because the Park Department does not accept reservations until the 1st of March. The date and other details will be provided in the summer issue of the KUAY.

We appreciated the Park Department's cooperation in preparing the grounds and supplying extra tables.

The President's Corner

By Bill Tobin, '46

Winter is upon us, so many of you have moved to winter quarters. For many, we have both winter and summer addresses on our computer. Unfortunately, if this February issue goes to an address that has been forwarded, this bulk mail Kuay will not be forwarded along with first class mail. Please pass the word to QA friends who may have missed this issue. We'd like to get them back in the fold.

We'd appreciate hearing of stories you might have that would be appropriate for The Kuay. Keeping the memories alive is one of the aims of this organization. If you dig deep into your subconscious to recall those fragile moments of yesteryear, you might help make it a memorable year for the readers of The Kuay.

I want to thank all of the Queen Anneites who have ordered our memorabilia items, as well as the spouses who did not attend Queen Anne but are shopping for their mates or descendants. We sincerely appreciate your orders.

The items we offer are of good quality and quite attractive.

Board and Officers for 2000

Board members for the coming year were unanimously elected at the annual banquet, then officers selected from the Board at the November 15th Board meeting. The officers are: Bill Tobin, '46, President; Kim Turner, '61, Vice President; John Hennes, '51, Recording Secretary; and Hal Will, '44, Treasurer.

The remaining Board members are not officers but perform equally critical functions. They are: Nadine (Blackford) Belcher, '57; Ed Bol, '81; Dennis Helmick, '62; Glo (Gleason) Holcomb, '46; Connie (Haas) Morrison, '81; Barbara (Wilson) Nelson, '58; John Shanafelt, '34; and Pat (Standard) Woodhouse, '58.

KUAY and QAHSAA

The KUAY is published by the Queen Anne High School Alumni Association, free for members and friends of the Association, at PO Box 9128, Seattle, WA 98109-0128. To be placed on the mailing list or to help with the association activities, see the coupon on page 15 (donation urged but not required). Board meetings are generally held on the third Monday of each month and are open to all graduates. Call Bill Tobin 253-373-9423 for details.

TO THE VOLUNTEERS

By Glo (Gleason) Holcomb, '46

Our organization could not exist without volunteers. Of course our officers and board members are all volunteers and deserve a pat on the back for giving so generously of their time and talents. They also provide most of the raffle items for our spring luncheon.

We rely heavily on others as well. Some who are instrumental to our needs are: Lee Zobrist for his invaluable help with our computer hardware and software; Betty (Pipes) Mead, for her tireless tracking of deceased alumni for The Kuay; Don Estep for his assistance in locating lost alums; two former board members who have come forward to help are Patty (Cunningham) Tewkesbury and Betty (Charouhas) Bebee; Margaret Hennes for her help with the picnics and banquets; Shirley Will for her willingness to assist in all phases as well as hosting our many committee and editorial board meetings; Ran Hennes, Kerry McMahan, and Ron Andresen who serve on our scholarship committee; Ray Carlson for his assistance at the Magnolia Festival and picnics; Alice

As each issue of The Kuay shapes up there is often the need for appropriate graphics to fill small voids or break up pages of text. Some of my favorites are whimsical little bears cavorting like high school students. Their creator was a Queen Anne student and most of them were drawn for the Grizzly Annual by Larry Holcomb during his senior year.

John Laurence Holcomb graduated in the class of 1953 and was known to many of his classmates as Larry. His mother and father both graduated from Queen Anne in 1921 and his older brother, Clyde, was in the class of 1945.

Larry joined the Naval Reserve at age 17 and attended boot camp in San Diego in the summer of 1952, and then Reserve activities at the Lake Union Reserve Center afterward. He attended the U of W after high school for a year and a half and was a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. He could be seen in his green Model A Ford coupe, often with his Irish Setter, Pat, in the passenger seat. While attending some special classes at Everett Junior College he became ill.

Kidney failure confined Larry to bed for a year and a half before he recovered enough to get a job with a customs brokerage firm. A subsequent relapse limited his activity to classes two hours a day at Seattle Pacific College in an attempt to continue his education. He again recovered enough to accept a new job offer at a larger customs brokerage. Enthusiasm over this new opportunity was dashed by his father's sudden death in June of 1957.

Larry's new job ended with his death September 2, 1958 from kidney failure. One cannot help but wonder where his natural artistic talent might have taken him. His lovable bear students live on throughout the 1953 Grizzly Annual and will appear, space permitting, in future issues of The Kuay.

We wanted you to know about the talented young man who created these delightful images.

(Whalley) Holcomb from the class of '21 and her family for their attendance and help at all of our various events; and Jerry Munro for his seemingly endless supply of flowers for our banquets.

Raffles are a part of the entertainment at our major events as well as sweetening the scholarship fund. Queen Anne Thriftway is our longest continuous supporter with David Holcomb's Chef N Products and Ed Bol's Northwest Print Brokers tying for second place. Budd Gould's Anthony's Home Port gift certificates are great. Ray Carlson as well as Hal & Shirley Will contribute special raffle items. Not all of our contributors have a connection to QAHS. Tully's Coffee and The Homing Instinct on QA Ave. as well as Darryl Watanabe's business, Willard's Stamps and Collectibles, have made donations.

What would we ever do without the bottomless coffee pot at our picnics provided by Magnolia Tully's Coffee.

A special thanks is in order to Bardow Lewis with the Seattle Parks

Department for supervising the facility preparations and providing extra tables for our annual picnic at Magnolia Park.

Speaking of picnics, thanks to our master chef Dave Tollefsen and how about John Shanafelt's big pot of chili.

Also due to John's efforts, we have three new contributors from Whidbey Island. Generous gift certificates were won to Teddy's and Hong Kong Restaurants and a trip on 2000 Puget Sound Cruise Cutty Sark.

It is impossible to recognize everyone but these names come to mind at this writing.

The '49ers came from all over the country to participate in this very special 50th class reunion. They came from Virginia, Florida, Texas, and places in between.

The fun-filled weekend began August 19th at a stag, no-host luncheon at Tai Tung Restaurant. The next day, photos were taken on the front steps of Queen Anne followed by a tour of some of the units converted to condos. About forty former students enjoyed this tour.

Sixteen participated in the golf tournament Friday at the Nile. Bob and Jackie (Forler) Garvin even awarded prizes.

The 1949 senior annual ambition of Maggie (Barbas) Tsalaky, "To have a senior class reunion in 1999 at my mansion" was, in fact, fulfilled Friday on a beautiful Seattle evening. Almost ninety classmates enjoyed the sweeping view of the city and Elliott Bay from her home while nibbling appetizers and catching up on the news of the past fifty years.

On Saturday the 21st of August, two hundred twenty gathered at the Nile Country Club where our senior prom was held. There was ample time for reminiscing, dining and being entertained.

Joe Ferluga, committee chairman, was M.C. and proposed a toast to the deceased of our class. Annabelle (Gullikson) Wall sang "Climb Every Mountain" then Bob Johnston led the crowd in a vigorous fight song following up with the alma mater. He gave an added treat by singing "If I Were a Rich Man".

The Sunday brunch at Anthony's, Shilshole, drew 84 and wrapped up a weekend of fun, companionship, and renewed

Class of '59 Celebrates Forty

By Sidney (Turner) Noel, '59

The Queen Anne class of 1959 had a memorable 40th class reunion at Larry & Diane Sharp's beautiful home in Mill Creek for some 100 + classmates. We enjoyed a wonderful patio buffet and were able to visit with alums who came from far and near. The weather was clear and warm so we could mingle outdoors for a fantastic evening. We thoroughly enjoyed seeing classmates and talking about the "good old days" as well as hearing what they are doing today.

My brother, Kim Turner, '61, played historian. Anyone who has any QA info or questions about classmates can contact him through The Kuay, or email at: ktumer@spl.org

Our class continues the tradition of being outstanding. For example, Howard McCurdy has written five books about space, politics and technology. He was recently interviewed by Tom Brokaw. Queen Anne High School grads are still making waves in the world today.

There was talk among some Warren Avenue Grade School graduates about organizing a reunion for people who attended that historic school. Anyone interested in a Warren Avenue Alumni reunion can contact Kim Turner, Dick Baker, or myself, and if there is enough interest, we'll arrange a get together. Let's do it Warren Avenue!

Thank you to all who helped set up this reunion; it took a lot of planning. I'm sure I speak for those who attended, that we enjoyed every moment. Larry and Diane, Pete Wickstrand, everyone; thanks for a warm and meaningful evening.

Banquet attendees received the new, 3D, gold plated Queen Anne ornament specifically commissioned for this event by Joe Ferluga. (They are now available from the Alumni Association. See page 15)

P.S. Would the person who took down the banner in the driveway after the banquet cleanup please send it to Joe Ferluga. We need this costly item for the 55th.

1949 class rosters are still available for $5 and mini annuals for $15. Contact Joe Ferluga at 253-564-5413.

Thirtieth Year for Class of '69

By Sandi (Lorentz) Marrs, '69

The class of '69 celebrated thirty years the weekend of October 1-2. Friday night was a "Grads Only" night held at Dante's in the U District. It was a fun, casual evening, beginning at 7 PM and lasting until 1 AM.

The Saturday night reunion event was held at the Shilshole Bay Beach Club, with approximately 150 attending. Grads came from as far away as Australia. It was a beautiful evening, filled with wonderful memories and lots of laughs. Following this event, many alums went to Daniel's Broiler to enjoy fellow class member Chris Merrick's incredible piano playing and singing at the piano bar. It was a wonderful ending to a fantastic reunion!

The reunion committee consisted of Rory Crowder, Jim Eicher, Sandi (Lorentz) Marrs, Wayne Lubin, Linda (Miller) Albo, Greg Newton, Carol (Noble) Croff, Tracy (Poe) Rohwer, Craig Smith, and Marcie (Wood) Newton.

Craig Smith organized the 30th reunion golf event. It was held at Foster Golf Links in Tukwila, Friday October 1st on a beautiful, sunny afternoon. Prizes were awarded to all participants and they enjoyed a nice lunch on the terrace, compliments of Jack Mathers. The participants and teams were as follows:

Team #1

Craig Smith (Washington)
Marc Pease (Washington)
Greg Pease (Alaska)

Team #2

Scott Stevens (Connecticut)
Jack Mathers (Washington)
Kathy Goetz (Washington)

Team #1 was winner with a 3 under par score. A highlight was on the 17th hole. Craig Smith hit his second shot from 140 yards to within an inch of the cup...an easy birdie!

The group agreed that this should be an annual event with more golfers, so please send a message of interest for the "Grizzly Golf 2000" event to Craig Smith, email csmith@eskimo.com (home) or paul.smith5@pss.boeing.com (work), or phone 425-868-7387.

'79 is Fine

By Molly (Norris) Curtis, '79

And so was our 20 year reunion in '99. Our committee consisted of two: Laura (Parrish) Komen, and myself. Plans went smoothly and we kept things simple: Open dress code at a Saturday-night-only soiree. (Although, Jeff Wysznski did arrange an unauthorized, pre-reunion cocktail party at Dante's, which I didn't attend, but that we hear turned out swell.)

We hired Reunions with Class and they reserved Shilshole Bay Beach Club for us on October 9th. The setting was picturesque and the banquet food was fresh and delicious. They preserved our sanity.

Being that I was half of the committee, I schmoozed to welcome the 134 alumni (out of 381 on the mailing list) plus their spouses and friends. Except for a few slights — the handsome Doug Swain wouldn't speak to me because I "never gave him the time of day" at school — folks seemed to be having a heck of a good time. We danced and drank and ate, glad to catch up on one another's adventures.

People came from out of town: Greg Thompson writes for the television show Third Rock from the Sun, in Hollywood; Cynthia Franklin, in from Indianapolis, looked ravishing; Teresa (Sheridan) McDonald has a terrific family and a career as a case manager in Whitefish, MT; Mary Cooke is a stock specialist in Los Angeles; Mike Bennett is Sr. Pastor at Ellington Congregational Church in Ellington, CT — just to name a few.

Residing near or far, alumni are upstanding, interesting, and groovy citizens — to the contrary of comments made by certain faculty during commencement! Naa-naa!

My homemade table centerpieces consisted of bouquets of giant wire-and-paper flowers on long, bobbing stems that were attached to small boulders. All of them were taken home as souvenirs. Joe Villarino, as prescient as ever, even had me sign a petal!

A high school reunion comes almost in the form of a dream. Whereas in school, students were separated by real and/or imagined social stigmas, at reunions, we move freely and visit. Like I say on our memory book's opening page, "Welcome to the party! You'all enjoy, because. . . THERE ARE NO MORE CLIQUES."

And thank goodness.

Grizzly Angels

Each year the legacy of Queen Anne High School is expressed in part by the Alumni Scholarship Program. An ongoing effort to provide scholarships for Grizzly descendants today and to provide a permanent fund for scholarships in the future. The contributions of our many Angels is what fuels the Queen Anne legacy. Most gifts to the Association are modest and all contributors are listed in the Angel list. A few grads and some of the reunion classes have pondered the value of our scholarship activities and chosen to give substantially larger amounts. These provide a significant boost and are most appreciated. Note: an asterisk (*) after a donor's name indicates that scholarship use was specified.

Five Grizzlies Make UW Top 100

By John Hennes, '51

As the 20th Century reaches its end, many lists have appeared of the top events, top people, etc. of the last 100 years. Recently, the University of Washington Alumni Association compiled its list of the 100 UW Alumni of the Century. Included in that list are five Queen Anne grads. Holding five percent of the UW list is a considerable achievement, considering from how many schools and states the UW student body has been drawn over the century. The list appears in the December, 1999 Columns magazine. For old timers, this is not the campus humor magazine of yesteryear, but the alumni magazine of today. The five chosen were:

John Cherberg, '29. Cherberg played football at Queen Anne and the UW, before going on to a coaching career at Cleveland High School, Queen Anne high school and the University of Washington, where he was initially Freshman football coach and then head coach. He followed his athletic career by being elected Lt. Governor of our state in 1956, where he served 32 years.

Longer than any other Lt. Governor in US history. He died in 1992.

Hank Ketcham, '37. Ketcham attended UW art school in the 1940s. He created Dennis the Menace in 1950 and is still drawing it today. It appears in newspapers in 48 countries and 19 languages.

Joel Pritchard, '44. Pritchard spent 12 years in the Washington Legislature, 12 years in Congress and 9 years as Washington's Lt. Governor, succeeding Cherberg. A Republican, he was known for his civility and his ability to build bipartisan coalitions. He died in 1997.

Bob Houbregs, '49. Houbregs played baseball and basketball at Queen Anne. He led the Husky men's basketball team to their only NCAA Final Four appearance, in 1953. Along the way he made All American three times, set numerous UW basketball records, played five years in the NBA, and was the SuperSonics general manager from 1970-1973.

Gary Kildall, '60. Kildall, a pioneer in the computer software industry, developed the CP/M operating system that made the personal computer possible. He founded Digital Research in 1976, and sold it to Novell in 1991. He died in 1994.

prints. She also does murals (for those who remember her "Castle in the Clouds" mural on the stairwell by the school's shop wing).

Kay B. Christie, '81, emails us that she has a new address in Seattle, and that she is working in the Criminal Division of the King County Prosecutors office.

Coe School held a very successful Open House/Reunion last October. The event marked the final year of school in the current facility. Starting in June, for the next two years, Coe will be rebuilt. Not to worry, though-the main building has been Landmarked and will not be destroyed. Among many memorabilia that turned up was a large set of Coe class-graduation photos collected by the late Helen Clark, wife of Queen Anne's Coach Clark and a teacher at Coe for 27 years.
